TAX PENALTIES ON DELINQUENT TAXES REMITTED

SUPREME COURT RULES LAW IS CONSTITUTIONAL.

Those With Delinquent Taxes May Save All Interest and Penalties By Paying By Jan. 31st.

The Texas Supreme Court sustained the constitutionality of a law passed by the 42nd Legislature remitting penalties and interest on delinquent taxes provided the principal was paid on or before January 31 next.

The law was enacted as an emergency measure, designed to encourage payment of past due taxes and help taxpayers in current stringent financial times.

A case to test the validity of the act was instituted in Travis county district court when J. R. Williams, tax collector, refused to accept payment from Moses Jones of Jones' delinquent taxes minus interest and penalties. Jones brought mandamus proceedings to force Williams to accept payment but a three-judge district court refused to grant the mandamus. Appeal was taken to the Third Court of Civil Appeals and the question of constitutionality was certified by it to the Supreme Court.

The test was suggested by Attorney General James V. Allred, who expressed doubt of the law's validity. Allred contended there was no question but that the Legislature could postpone the time of payment of taxes, stop the running of interest in the future, or to provide that no penalties shall accrue or be exacted in the future. He expressed doubt that the Legislature had the power to remit or give away interest and penalties already due.

The effect of the law and the court's sustaining opinion, written by Chief Justice C. M. Cureton, is to release to the taxpayers all interest and penalties on delinquent taxes (except cities and towns) that have accrued since 1836 to date the taxes are paid, provided they are paid before Feb. 1, 1932. Penalties and interest paid prior to September 30, 1931, or reduced to a final judgment prior to that date, are not remitted, and hence remain effective as if the act had not been passed.

The decision found that interest and penalties on delinquent taxes form no part of the taxes but are, within the meaning of the constitution, penalties exacted as a punishment for failure to comply with statutory directions, and that being a creature of the statutes, they may be repealed and relinquished by statutory act.

The court held that any and all penalties, interest and taxes paid prior to Sept. 30, 1931, the effective date of the law, or that were reduced to final judgment prior to that date, do not come within the provisions of the act, but the act does release and entinguish all penalties and interest exactions not yet paid, or which are the subject of pending suits.

It was held that while the law could not be sustained under that section of the constitution permitting the legislature to release taxes on account of "great public calamities," although the legislature based its authority to enact the law on that section, notwithstanding the mistake of the legislature, the act was held valid on "other grounds."

The court said that "public calamities" within the meaning of the constitution, do not include such as brought on by financial depressions, but those resulting from storms, cyclones, floods, fires, etc.

The court did not expressly determine whether penalties and interest exactions on delinquent taxes come under the constitutional provision prohibiting the releasing of "debts, liabilities and obligations," but by implication the decision appears to hold that taxes, interest and penalty exactions do not come within the constitutional classification of "debt, liabilities, and obligations."

It was under this particular section of the constitution that the attorney general based his argument and opinion that the law was void.

The court said that after an exhaustive study of all tax acts passed by the republic and the state to date, the court concluded that the term "interest" exacted for delinquent tax payment was not commercial interest, charged for retention of money or a debt, or a penalty in the nature of punishment.

Looking Forward Theme of Rotary Talk on Tuesday

The Vocational Service committee, with W. A. Warren, chairman, had charge of the program at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club Tuesday. Mr. Warren discussed the necessity of preparedness and looking forward as an insurance of success.

Next Tuesday will be the third anniversary of the Rotary Club, and ladies' night will be observed with the luncheon at 7:30 at night instead of at the noon time.

Visitors Tuesday were Travis B. Shaw of Aztec, N. M., R. D. McKinney of Lubbock, P. E. Bennett, W. C. Perry and H. Grady Persons, of Amarillo.

Mr. Warren stated that behind every movement there was some man. There was no successful business unless some man was devoting his time and energy to directing the affairs of the business. He called attention to numerous instances when preparation had been made by some man for the emergency which might arise.

Mr. Warren believed it bad to be talking depression all of the time. But this was the period for self-expression, to take an inventory and clear out our dead ideas on the shelves of one's thought.

Calling attention to the political year ahead, he urged the support of honest men. There are somewhere men who will lead the people out of the present difficulties, and he expressed faith in the American people to select honest officials.

Reduced Rates For Children Offered in the Music Dept.

With the opening of the winter quarter of the College, attention of parents is called to the low terms offered by the College for individual instruction in the department of Music. Fees for children of the grade school age are fifteen dollars for the quarter, two lessons per week, and twenty dollars for high school students. Considering the type of instruction received, there is no question but that this is an unequalley opportunity. Students may now enroll for the winter quarter.

THE MOTORIST'S NEW YEAR RESOLUTIONS

It would be a splendid thing if all automobile drivers would adopt a set of New Year's resolutions—and keep them. A few suggestions follow:

(1) I will make it a practice to drive prudently and carefully at all times.

(2) I will give due regard to the rights of others, who are as much entitled to the use of street and highways as I am.

(3) I will not be a road hog, nor drive on the wrong side of the road, cut corners or drive at high rates of speed when conditions are not favorable.

(4) At all times I will keep my lights, brakes, steering gear and horn in the best of condition.

(5) I will be watchful to do my part to prevent an automobile accident in 1932.

Many more suggestions will come readily to mind. Our annual toll of automobile fatalities is rapidly approaching the 35,000 mark—35,000 lives destroyed because of negligence and carelessness. The cure is up to the individual driver. He must face and accept the responsibility that is his when he takes the wheel of his car, if this needless waste of irreplacable lives is to be stopped.

START LAYING PIPE

Work was started laying the pipe on the city water main extension Monday afternoon by a crew under the direction of C. N. Harrison. The city's crew has the ditch for the mains run to the College, and will wait now for the line crew to catch up with the pipe.

Mayor Bellah stated yesterday that the work would be completed within a very short time.

HEAVY DOCKET CIVIL CASES COURT SESSION

DISTRICT COURT WILL OPEN HERE NEXT MONDAY.

Crutchfield Bank Robbery Case Will Be Tried—Grand Jury to Start Investigations Monday.

Judge Henry S. Bishop will open the winter term of the district court at 9:00 o'clock Monday morning. The grand jury will be empanneled as the first business of the session, and will start investigation of law infractions under the direction of District Attorney Edward W. Thomerson.

District Clerk Berl E. Mayfield states that there is a heavy civil docket for the term, but a large part will be uncontested cases which should be easily disposed of. The criminal docket is rather light states the clerk, unless the grand jury should return a number of indictments.

The Crutchfield bank robbery case from Carson county, which was transferred here last term has been set for Jan. 11th. Crutchfield is charged with robbery of the White Deer bank. A large number of witnesses have been called for this case.

Regulations For Political Stories Given by the News

Several prospective candidates have asked for information regarding the publication in the News of political announcements. In order that all candidates may understand the regulation, the following information is given which will apply to all.

It is preferred that all candidates write their own announcements, but a member of the staff will assist if desired. The wording of all announcements must be subject to the approval of the News staff. Both political announcements and political advertising are on a cash-in-advance basis, which has been found in the past by both candidates and newspapers to be the only satisfactory way of handling political announcements.

A political announcement consists of a news story, to be printed on the first page of the News, not to exceed 250 words in length, publication of the candidate's picture if he has a one-column cut, and placing the candidate's name in the political announcement column through the second primary.

Prices for the political announcements are as follows:

District and county, $10.00.

Precinct, $7.50.

Candidates are urged to place their announcements early in the week, not waiting until publication days.

New Students at College to Enter Winter Quarter

Heads of departments and other administrative officers of the College were busy yesterday enrolling new students and adjusting programs of the old students who had returned for the winter term. Despite the stormy weather, a large part of the students had returned yesterday and classes are in session today.

Students who are entering for the first time, and who have come from unaffiliated schools are taking entrance examinations today and will continue taking them thru tomorrow.

There will be no means of checking the attendance with any degree of accuracy before the beginning of next week, but the indications are that the attendance for the winter quarter will be exceedingly good. The fall attendance was larger than last year, and it is expected that the enrollment will not be hurt by the conditions which prevail throughout the country.

Many members of the faculty and students spent the holidays out of the city, but an unusual number remained in Canyon. Teachers have made plans for the quarter's work and have spent some time in recreation, while students have found many means of entertaining themselves, both in Canyon and other places. Everyone reports that those returning are in good spirits and glad to be back at work.

Monday, January 4, is the last day on which programs can be changed, so it is expected that the enrollment will be complete by that time.

County Agent in Report Grateful Publicity Given

In making his annual report on the activities of the County Agent for the past year, W. H. Upchurch made the following statement regarding the co-operation of the press:

"Clippings from press stories are included in this report to show something of the co-operation of the local papers in furthering extension work. No attempt is made to include a complete collection of these for the reason that they would take up too much space. Enough is included, it is thought, to give a fair idea of the character of the stories and articles. There has been something like 200 of these published this year in local and state papers. It is doubtful if any better co-operation of the press is found in any part of the country than in Randall county. We have never been refused space for any pet scheme of placing a matter before the public regardless of the amount of space required. This has been especially true of the local paper owned and edited by Hon. Clyde W. Warwick, Representative of this district in the state legislature. The same is true of the big daily at Amarillo. The Amarillo News-Globe, which is sent complimentary to the county agents in this territory.

"We feel that co-operation of this sort cannot be valued too highly."

WALLACE CLARK APPOINTED TO NATIONAL POST

REPRESENTS ENTIRE SOUTHWEST ON SURVEY COM.

United States Chamber of Commerce Selects Clark One of Eleven to Study Problems.

Wallace R. Clark, head of the Music Department of the College, has been selected one of eleven men in the United States to make a study of chambers of commerce and to report upon the scope and value of these organizations. Mr. Clark is the only man from the group of Southwestern States, and the only college man who will be in the group. The appointment comes as a distinct honor not only to Mr. Clark, but also to the West Texas State Teachers College, and to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce of which organization he has been an active director for a number of years.

Only 11 men in the United States were appointed to the committee by Silas H. Strawn, president of the national chamber.

On the committee, headed by Richard F. Grant, New York, president of the Lehigh Valley Coal Corporation, are two chamber of commerce "professionals." Eight other members are business men from various fields.

According to a letter from Ralph Bradford, manager of the commercial organization department, Mr. Clark was appointed to represent the "public interest element."

Mr. Clark said he would attend the committee's first meeting, to be held January 23 in Washington, D. C.

The meeting will be held in connection with the January session of the United States Chamber of Commerce board. At that time the committee will report, offering original suggestions for incorporation into the national program.

The report will be made, as the letter of appointment explains, after "a study on the place and importance of scope and value of chambers of commerce."

As a director in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, largest regional organization of its kind in the world, Mr. Clark is interested intensely in the result of the committees work.

Mr. Clark expressed the opinion "a great deal of good will come out of the meeting."

Committee members hope, among other things, to have a group session devoted to present problems of local chambers of commerce, it was explained.

In addition to defining the scope and character of work being done by chambers of commerce, the national committee will set forth the obligation which business men owe to support such organizations, Mr. Clark said.

EQUALIZATION PLAN

Canyon News: Uncle Sam is having trouble with his finances just the same as most of his nephews. It is now proposed to increase the income tax, and lower the exemptions so that about 1,700,000 more people will have to pay the income tax. That will seem unreasonable to those who have not had to pay when times were better. The ideal tax always is the one that the other fellow pays.

State Press in Dallas News: Exactly. None of us can see any harm in soaking the rich. On the other hand, the rich can see great good in making the exemptioners contribute. The wider the base of taxation, they say, the less extravagance will be permitted in government. There is something to that. No one whose income is untaxable objects to the income tax, even though it should take half what his neighbor has. Nor does the man who pays a big tax see the justice in unequal taxation. If all men are born on the equality basis, they ought to stay that way, the big payers contend. Analyzed to its residue, we find that the income tax which takes more from some than from others is in fact an equalized tax. Equality doesn't mean the same amount of taxation but the same amount of sacrifice. It hurts one man as much to pay $50 as another is hurt by paying $500, so their pains are equalized. Taxation being a pain, it is just, it is constitutional, it is in keeping with the spirit of our institutions, that Richard Roe bled in the lower brackets like John Dough in the higher.

A great many predictions are being made for 1932, all of which is guess work. We have been looking for 18 months for the corner around which prosperity was supposed to be hiding. The condition is not a local affair, or confined to one country. It is a world-wide affair, from which the world as a whole must recover. The News has stated many, many times, and will repeat our views: Raw material and manufactured articles must reach the same level before there is a return of prosperity. It matters not so much which is raised or which is lowered. Raw materials are at pre-war levels, and have been for months. Manufactured articles are at a high level. Either raw materials must go up, or manufactured articles come down. In the question of manufactured articles the big problem enters of wage adjustments, taxes, rents, interest, transportation. Taxes cannot be materially reduced until bonds are paid off and the cost of government—local, state and national—reduced. During prosperous times, bonds were issued for every conceivable public improvement, and now these must be met. Expensive improvements, public and private, were made, upon which the owner feels that he should draw a just return. The man who borrowed money in prosperous times now is faced with the problem of repaying this money with a cheaper currency, and therefore paying back more than he borrowed. This big world-wide problem is most complex, and will not be worked out overnight, or during a short period. At any rate, the world is now paying for the spree through which it went during and after the war, and the more it learns from the foolishness of war, the better it should be.

Rev. W. C. Kunze made a very sensible talk at the Canyon Rotary club last week regarding the political situation for the coming year. He advised against listening to all the political bunk that will be put out in the campaign, and to weigh the candidates for their worth, and not on account of the individual feeling for or against the candidates. The News predicted several weeks ago that 1932 would be a bitter political year. More candidates than ever before will offer for office. Simply because a man or woman offers as a candidate is no excuse for the voter to start a program of derision against this candidate, or against all candidates as a group. Public affairs must be carried on, and the better the type of candidates, the better will the public's business be looked after. The candidate who offers a lot of political bunk should be ignored, but unfortunately the public mind will not ignore him. In times like these the more political bunk the candidate can manufacture, the more certain he is of getting the ear and the vote of certain classes of people. Weigh the candidate's record and his personal accomplishments, rather than his promise of political upheaval or reform.

The News hopes that before Christmas time comes again the City Commission will pass ordinances prohibiting the firing of torpedoes and fire crackers on the sidewalks of the down town section, and will have a sufficient police force to enforce it. The News is not opposed to boys having fun and throwing all the torpedoes they wish at each other. But the people of Canyon do not wish to experience another time as this year when torpedoes were exploded at the feet of women and children. Shoppers were virtually driven from the streets of the business section two nights by boys who became over-enthusiastic in their celebration. We suggest that next Christmas all boys who want to explode torpedoes be herded in the stock pens and given a free hand in throwing at each other to their heart's content.

The Supreme Court of Texas handed a pleasant Christmas gift to those who owe delinquent taxes by approving the bill passed by the 2nd called session of the 42nd legislature which remitted all costs and penalties on delinquent taxes which are paid on or before January 31st, 1932. There are on the state's tax rolls delinquent taxes amounting to $15,000,000. It would be hard to estimate the amount of penalties and interest which has accrued on this big amount, but this item runs into the size of a large fortune. It is estimated that a large part of the delinquent taxes in the state will be paid during the coming month, or at least all who are able to raise the money will pay their tax bills. If the taxes are not paid by January 31st, 1932, all of the penalties will be replaced on the tax bills.

The State Railroad Commission has passed an order taking the big trucks from the highways after the first of January. The order is directed at the big cotton trucks. Commissioners Terrell and Smith signed the order, and as usual Commissioner Neff took the matter under consideration. The three commissioners seldom agree upon anything. Mr. Neff usually stays in his office pouting while the other two meet and transact the business. But after all, we do not blame the commission for taking the trucks off the highways. The law was passed for that purpose, and the commission should carry out its provisions.

Gov. Bill Murray is in the discard so far as presidential possibilities are concerned. Bill had everything his own way for a long while. In fact he has run in high longer than most people suspected him capable of doing. Bill may have good characteristics, but modesty is not one of them.

The daily newspapers are usually pretty good barometers of the public mind. That is the reason they are devoting more space to the bridge tournament than they are to congress or the Japanese-Chinese war. Americans must have their bridge for breakfast.

Less liquor is being sold than at any time since the saloons were voted out, is the report of peace officers. That is one good result of the depression.

At any rate, we are certain there are not many folks who will regret the passing of 1931. Here's hoping 1932 will be no worse.

With all our hearts we hope that your 1932 will be more prosperous than was 1931.

Wayside Items

Christmas holidays are passing quietly (so fas as this scribe knows), at Wayside. No falling snow, and weather quite pleasant, not freezing cold.

Rev. J. R. Plant, wife and Jack Jr., were with us Sunday last, giving us two good sermons. We are pleased to have Bro. Plant returned and trust to see each one do their part and feel sure we will have a good year.

Mrs. D. L. Adams sustained an accidental fall last Thursday receiving severe injuries and is confined to her bed. We sympathize with her very much and trust she may soon be restored to wonted health.

L. B. Rogers, resident of Canyon, past twelve years, died early last Sunday morning, Dec. 27. Was confined to his bed only a few days. He was 82 years of age. Funeral services were held in the Methodist church Canyon, conducted by Rev. C. E. Jameson, his pastor. He was buried in Wayside cemetary, Monday, Dec. 28, where he was well and favorably known. Quite a number of Wayside people went to Canyon and accompanied his remains. He leaves a wife and five children, two brothers and two sisters, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his going. Nearly all his near relatives were with him in his last hours.

Mrs. Troy Womble of Hereford was among the attendants at the funeral and burial services of L. B. Rogers.

Wm. Payne, wife and two sons, Roy Franklin and Miss Flossie Payne of Dalhart reached Wayside Thursday. Business called Mr. Payne's return Saturday, but the rest visited with relatives until Monday. All enjoyed their stay very much.

W. R. Franklin has been confined at home since Thursday with flu. Maybe some improvement in his condition.

Mrs. Wm. Payne and mother, Mrs. Ida Sluder and Miss Payne, with Doyle as chauffeur, visited Mrs. Van O'Neal at Tulia Saturday. W. J. Sluder accompanied them on business.

Christmas tree at the school house Thursday night, was a glad time with the little folks. Roads so muddy attendance not so large as usual.

Mrs. Bernice McNeil from Archer City is spending the holidays at the paternal W. L. McGehee home, also Melton McGehee from Tech at Lubbock.

Sluder reunion Christmas Day consisted of Wm. Payne and family, J. S. Sluder and family, Manford Counterman and family, Mrs. Fannie Franklin and children, Rev. A. E. Butterfield. A pleasant day for all.

George Hancock, wife and Jerry spent part of Christmas at the parental Lane home.

Syd Franklin and wife from New Mexico visited the parental Franklin home a week ago. Left car in mud and walked in a ways.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fry Page, returned Thursday from Franklin and Nashville, Tenn., where she visited in the homes of J. R. and Fred J. Page during the holidays. Mrs. Page also spent a short while with friends at Dallas while away.

Shake hands with a collector and invite him in so that your neighbors will not know he is a collector.

NEW YEARS GREETING

As the last days of the old year have gone into history, we find ourselves glancing gackward for a brief spell to consider the things the year has left for us.

The things that impress us most in our glance backward are the number of friends that we have gained and the steadfastness of the friends made in former years.

And as we go into the New Year with bright prospects, it seems that the change for the better is coming in evidence. It is with keen realization that our future welfare is in the hands of our friends. To serve the best interests of our friends is our highest ambition, and to carefully safeguard those interests shall be our greatest endeavor throughout the year.

We have the most wonderful country in the world, the finest people in it; and with health and the will to carry on we will find we can regain the ground we have lost and go on, and on. At this time may we leave this thouught with you and with it the best wishes to you and yours for the New Year.

CHAMBER OF COMERCE

FRED E. WORTHAM, Secretary

Happy New Year!

A splendid new year's resolution for every citizen of Canyon would be to resolve that all your buying would be at home in the year 1932.

If you do not have faith in Canyon and Randall county, and if you are not willing to co-operate with every interest for the betterment of the community life, you should make other arrangements immediately.

The greatest need of the hour is trained citizenship. Not leaders—we have too many of them now, but great is the need for honest-to-goodness citizens. Why not start the new year with a determination to make a better citizen of yourself by acquiring that spirit of friendly co-operation with every enterprise of the community which is sponsored for its improvement.

No community can advance without co-operation. No nation can push forward without co-operation. No set or group of individuals will expand unless there is harmony and co-operation. No individual can live to himself. He cannot withdraw from his fellow man and live a life of selfishness without hurting some one else by such actions. Following such a narrow viewpoint, a person brings no lasting benefit to himself, nor to others. To really live one must have friends. To have friends he must be a friend. To be a good friend he is a good citizen.

Tune in on the Chamber of Commerce Radio Program each Tuesday night from 8:30 to 9:00 o'clock over station WDAG in Amarillo.

Resolve now to trade at home for a year. Build your home town for 1932 by patronizing home merchants.

"The dollar you spend now is worth $1.50—the dollar you save now is worth 75 cents," states a national authority on money figures. He states further, "Maybe that sounds ridiculous—but it's true today."

"Compared with your 1929 dollar, your 1932 dollar will buy about $1.50 worth of such things as staple foods, clothing, furniture, radios, household appliances and automobiles, at present prices.

"But if you keep your dollar, thinking it's the same dollar you had two years ago, you'll find that it's worth about 75 cents.

"By spending your 1932 dollar, you not only get the things you need most at bargain prices, but you help provide a job for somebody who would otherwise have to depend upon charity.

"If you help put this other somebody to work, he can buy things you or your husband makes or sells, and that will help you to have more dollars.

"Think about this when you are tempted to say, 'No, I can't afford that now.'"

Invite your friends and neighbors over for a friendly visit each Tuesday night and listen to the Chamber of Commerce program from WDAG in Amarillo.

The Chamber of Commerce will save the average business man more each month than his dues to the organization if he will avail himself of the use of the Advertising Committee. Do not sign up for any advertising scheme, give no donations, subscriptions to any thing unless it bears the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce advertising committee.

This committee saved the business men of Canyon $196.00 a few days ago on such a wild advertising scheme. Every cent of the money would have left Canyon to never return.

Challenge every solicitor of any kind when he enters your place of business. It's simple just to ask him if the proposition has the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce. If not, don't buy.

SINCLAIR OPALINE

DE-WAXED OILS FOR COLD WEATHER DRIVING

HARDLY A PERSON WHO ISN'T FAMILIAR with that little jar of petroleum jelly in the family medicine cabinet. But how many know that this is the same, salve-like substance which makes ordinary motor oil thick and sluggish when cold, and water-thin when hot?

PETROLEUM JELLY HAS VIRTUALLY BEEN stripped from Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil. Sinclair refineries have modern refrigerating and separating equipment which takes petroleum jelly out of Opaline at as low as 60 degrees F. below zero—a point much lower than required for just removing wax.

ALL GRADES OF OPALINE ARE REFINED FOR year-round use. (See Sinclair Law of Lubrication booklet which we will gladly give you.)

WE SUPPLY OPALINE TO YOUR CAR ACCORDing to the Sinclair Law of Lubrication. This law is based on the fact that the space between piston and cylinder wall is widened by wear. The grade of oil which filled this space at 5,000 miles cannot safely bridge the gap and prevent blow-by at 15,000 miles.

OPALINE IS REFINED FROM SELECTED PARAfin base crudes in several grades—one of them will exactly fit your engine according to its present state of wear. Tell us your mileage—we have an index which specifies the correct grade of Opaline for your car.

Our Best Wishes

Although the past year has not yielded an abundance of prosperity, it has taught us that there are values which contribute more or at least as much to our happiness and well-being as financial abundance. The experiences of this past year have made us more charitable toward our brothers; they have given us more appreciation of each other's efforts, and they have made us more co-operative with each other. Indeed some of us are learning that riches is not the greatest thing in the world.

With these lessons embedded in the souls of all of us, we have the foundation for greater achievements as a people than ever before. May the lessons that you individually have learned, yield abundant returns in the way of harmonious, happy living during the year 1932.

SCOLDING THE WAITER

Grandfather was slowly walking along the sidewalk, and Billie, aged four, was about twenty paces behind, trudging along on little fat legs.

"Why don't you wait for me?" he called, aggrieved.

"I'm waiting for you," replied Grandfather, slowing up a bit and turning around.

"Well," said the panting youngster, "you aren't waitin' very fast."—New Outlook.

There's a big difference between the things a salesman tells you about the car when you go to buy it and the things he tells you about it when you go to trade it in.

APPROPOS

Before the present business depression, the following story was considered a joke—now it might almost be a comparison. It would be hard to find a business man who is not in the same quandary as the man who operated a sawmill in Arkansas and finally decided to hire an accountant to explain things to him. When the accountant arrived in the sketchy little town where the saw-mill operated, he was met by the owner. "Wal, stranger," said the old timer. "It's this way. My father-in-law died a few years ago and left me the mill, my three boys run it, so it don't cost nothin' for wages; I steal all the timber, so that's free; my brother-in-law is division freight agent on the railroad and he sneaks all the lumber out for me, so that costs me nothin'. So what I want to know now is, how did I run behind $600 last year?"—The Office Cat.

HANDY WIFE

"Mary has a wonderful husband."

"Yes? Houzat?"

"Why, he helps her do all the work. Monday he washed the dishes with her. Tuesday he dusted with her. And tomorrow he is going to mop the floor with her."—Brown Jug.

TIP TO THE TOP

Mrs. Mary Burtz and daughter, Ruth, are spending the holidays in this community with her daughters and old neighbors.

FEED SHEEP TO CHICKENS.

E. V. Holman was here Monday from his ranch and states that he has a large flock of chickens to which he is feeding sheep. Sheep are so low that he can sell the sheep pelt for as much as he can sell the whole sheep, and that the carcus makes the best chicken feed.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our very deep appreciation to our friends and neighbors whose acts of love have made our sorrow in the loss of our loved one easier to bear.

The floral offerings, the kind expressions of sympathy, and the neighborly deeds of kindness have helped us more than we can tell. May God bless you is our prayer.

Mrs. L. B. Rogers and family.

Miss Johnnie Courtenay and little nephew, A. B. Duncan, Jr., are visiting his grandmothers, Mrs. A. B. Duncan and Mrs. J. E. Courtenay at Floydada this week.

Many a motorist who endeavors to maintain the right-of-way never lives to boast about it.

MILK PRICES LOWERED

We announce the following cut prices on milk, effective January 1st.

7 1-2c qt. (in quantities of 4 quarts)

9c single quarts 6c pint

Get good clean milk for as little as you pay for milk of uncertain cleanliness. Call us today. Phone 313.

MILK BOTTLES

In order to maintain these new low prices on milk, we must have our bottles returned promptly. Hence, at any time that your bottle in not out, we will not leave milk. We have no intention of offending any who have been forgetful to put out bottles, but we think that this method, which is used in other cities, will be of benefit to both of us.

NEW YEAR'S INVITATION

We invite you to visit our modern, clean dairy and see what precautions we are taking to produce the kind of milk that safeguards the health of you and your family. This past year we have installed a Frigidaire cooling system at the cost of over $1,000. We appreciate the opportunity to show you our equipment and the care we use to provide you with clean milk.

New Year's Greetings to you and yours.
